Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Monday 22 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Some brightness in east, otherwise cloudy with patchy rain.

Today:
Dry with sunny spells across much of eastern Scotland, and this afternoon in the far north and Northern Isles. Otherwise a rather cloudy day with patchy mainly light rain and drizzle. Southwesterly breeze, occasionally strong for northern and northwestern coasts.

Tonight:
Remaining dry with clear spells in the northeast and southeast this evening and overnight, otherwise mostly cloudy with patchy rain and drizzle. Southwesterly breeze continuing.

Tuesday:
The northeast and Northern Isles continue to see some bright or sunny spells, otherwise remaining generally cloudy with patchy rain. More persistent rain and coastal gales likely in west later.

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Becoming increasingly unsettled with showers or longer spells of rain, especially in north and west with the best of any sunshine in east. Wintry showers to low levels on Friday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.